

Caterpillar

Momma

I'm mostly a solitary gal
Tipping with morale
Scurrying around
Carve the hallways, make the campus clear
Isolated here
A stranger to my peers

Just a caterpillar, just a caterpillar
Just a caterpillar, just a caterpillar

Creepy crawler, stay inside my shell
Resistant to the bell
Quarantine myself
Lunchtime chatter, searching for a seat
Lumbering my feet
In slow company

Just a caterpillar, just a caterpillar
Just a caterpillar

Vipers in the den, I'm barely hanging on
They gnaw off all my legs, my grip is slipping off
I'm feeding off the plants, I'm staking out my stance
Salivate the taste like a caterpillar

Chewing on my new identity
Adapting heavily
Flexability
Get a game plane, conjure up a scheme
This bug has self-esteem
Watch me morph with ease

Like a caterpillar, like a caterpillar
Like a caterpillar

Vipers in the den, I'm barely hanging on
They gnaw off all my legs, my grip is slipping off
I'm feeding off the plants, I'm staking out my stance
Salivate the taste like a caterpillar
Persuing in the mud, my vertebrae is gone
I lost it in the flood, the poison's wearing off
I'm shedding off the snakes, 'cause I know I'm the boss
Salivate the taste like a caterpillar

Like a caterpillar
