

Highway

Momma

Sun sets over the desert's plan
Blue prince made for a country man
Sister's swallowed by the mirage
Applause, applause, applause

Stopped for a sip of gasoline
Chug like the townie's drink to dream
Trail the Dolorian's big exhaust
Get lost, get lost, get lost, get lost

These valleys know me well
Secret sin will never tell
Passing by the silver mine
This is the place I could die

On the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
When we're on the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
On the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
When we're on the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah

Burning tires like muscle cars
Through barbed wire to see the stars
Cowboys say they saw Jesus Christ
No dice, no dice, no dice, no dice

These valleys know me well
Secret sin will never tell
Passing by the silver mine
This is the place I could die

On the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
When we're on the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
On the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
When we're on the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
On the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
When we're on the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
On the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
When we're on the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
On the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
When we're on the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
On the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
When we're on the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
On the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
When we're on the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
On the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
When we're on the highway, when we're on the highway, yeah
