

In Another Love

Mondo Rock

Don't hold on
To someone when you know that they're gone
And don't hold back
When there's someone here you can lean on

Think of the things that you surely will find
In another love
If you open your heart and you open your mind
To another love
In another love

Love so cruel
So many times, there is no one to blame
Oh, so don't move away
Only a fool wouldn't try it again

Think of the things that you surely will find
In another love
If you open your heart and you open your mind
To another love
In another love
In another love

Maybe there will be a day
Maybe soon
And standing right in front of you
Someone

Think of the things that you surely will find
In another love
If you open your heart and you open your mind
To another love
In another love

Just think of the things that you surely will find
In another love
If you open your heart and you open your mind
To another love
Just think of the things that you surely will find
In another love
If you open your heart and you open your mind
To another love
In another love
