Redefine

Moneen

If years frame the passing of one day
Hoping for a change, might be too late
In rewind it echoes in your mind
Retrace your whole life, redefine love

You won't get out, you wander around
Wishing for love, searching for
A way to live out the days and hours
Wishing for, searching for a way out

Pieces break day after day
And it takes year after year to disappear

You won't get out, you wander around
Wishing for love, searching for
A way to live out the days and hours
Wishing for, searching for

A common thread through
A connection with the world
Searching for the one
Searching for you

United by themes of these unfulfilled dreams
You're not drifting alone

They won't get you out, they wander around
Wishing for love, searching for
A way to live out the days and hours
Wishing for, searching

In rewind it echoes in your mind
Redefine love
