

Feelings, Getting Stronger in the Dark

Moneybrother

Lay your head
Lay your lovely head
Down on my knee
Early Morning time
Tonight was alright will you stay once the morning has come
Will the look in your eye be the same once the darkness is gone

Do you love me
Do you love me, time
Or did the wine intensify you're feelings made it all seem right

And now the day is not at all as magic, as the night
Oh no, oh no

Lay your head
Lay your lovely head
Down on my knee

Early morning time
Caressing your hair as the morning comes inevitably
Just holding you close not knowing what tomorrow might be

Do you love me
Do you love me, time
Or did the wine intensify your feelings made it all feel right
And now the day is not at all as magic, as the night
Oh no, oh no.

Feelings, feelings, that grows
Feelings that grows stronger in the dark will be lost in the light
Will be lost in the light
Feelings that grows stronger in the dark, feelings that grows stronger in the dark
Will be lost in the light, will be lost in the light.
Oh no, oh no.
