

At the End of the Rainbow

Mono Inc.

Rain
Still it's raining in my heart
It's dripping in my emptiness
And levity is so far apart
Rain
Still it's cloudy my mind
A puddle in my confidence
A battle till the end of time

It won't be easy
But I won't give up
It won't be easy
But I know the journey is its own reward

Everyday takes me further away
From this sadness of mine
Everyday takes me further away
At the end of the rainbow I'll shine again

Rain
Still it's soggy in my head
It soaks into my loneliness
It's damp beneath my feather-bed
Rain
I'm still waiting for my prime
A drizzle in my sanity
A battle till the end of time

It won't be easy
But I won't give up
It won't be easy
But I know the journey is its own reward

Everyday takes me further away
From this sadness of mine
Everyday takes me further away
At the end of the rainbow I'll shine again

It's never easy
But I won't back down
It's never easy
But I know the journey is its own reward

Everyday takes me further away
From this sadness of mine
Everyday takes me further away
At the end of the rainbow I'll shine again

At the end of the rainbow
At the end of the rainbow
