

From the Ashes

Mono Inc.

Seven seas and seven wonders seven poisons seven blasts only bad news for tomorrow if tomorrow comes at last burning bridges and fey valleys bleeding rivers and toxic weeds it's our turn to fire the fuse now first we'll clean the surface and then we'll sow the seeds from the ashes of love we will rise again from this devastated trust and all this mess from the ruins of love we'll get up again and our overwhelming hope will do the rest from the ashes of love we'll rise again seven hills and seven deserts walls of clouds on frightening skies thirsty fields and starving vultures as a black sun melts the ice hearts of stone and lousy liars from theis heads down to their feet it's our turn to change the rules now

from the ahes of love we will rise again from this devastated trust and all this mess
and aou overwehlming hope will do the rest from the ashes of love we'll rise again we'll let it rain on all those warriors and set new rules we won't forget we'll take the pain from all those warriors and make forget that mankind's bad we'll rise again

we'll rise again someday

trom the ruins of love we'll get up again
and our overwhelming hope will do the rest

from the ashes of love from the ruins of hurt form the ashes of love like a flower in the dirt

we'll rise again
we'll rise again someday
