

Superman

Mono Inc.

How does it feel to be muted
How does it feel to be cheap
What does it mean to be stranded

It's on TV
And you revise yourself and breakdown
Your're much too small to make a change

Where's Superman today
Where's Superman tonight
You hold on til tomorrow
But Superman lied
The time will come where you
Surrender all your tries
You bare yourself and lay down
where superman died

How does it feel to be no good
How does it shine when you're blind
What does it mean to be shattered

It's on TV
So you convince yourself you're blameless
You turn your head and start to pray

For Superman today
For Superman tonight
You hold on til tomorrow
But Superman lied
The time will come where you
Surrender all your tries
You bare yourself and lay down
where superman died
