

Warriors

Mono Inc.

You didn't know the dangers
You didn't know the strains
You didn't know your enemies
Their meanness and their aims
You didn't see it brewing up
Their ignorance and rage
The self-selected judges
Resolve your darkest days

Never forgiven
We'll never forget
Your sapience, your courage and your gift
Never forgiven
They're villainous and bad
The guardians of inequity will claim
That you're to blame

Warriors of life fight boldly
Warriors of life die glorious
Warriors walk on
Nothing ventured, nothing gained
Warriors never lose your way

They're coming with their horse carts
Loaded up with wood
They're bringing wife and children
And a huge man with a hood
They're waving with their torches
It's the public's heart's desire

They giggle and they revel
As they put the pile on fire

Never forgiven
We'll never forget
Your sapience, your courage and your gift
Never forgiven
They're villainous and bad
The guardians of inequity will claim
That you're to blame

Warriors of life fight boldly
Warriors of life die glorious
Warriors walk on
Nothing ventured, nothing gained
Warriors never lose your way

Warriors of life fight boldly
Warriors of life die glorious
Warriors walk on
Nothing ventured, nothing gained
Warriors never lose...
Warriors of life fight boldly
Warriors of life die glorious
Warriors walk on
Nothing ventured, nothing gained
Warriors never lose your way

Warriors never lose your way
Warriors never lose your way
