

growing pains

MONSTA X

I was just a kid when the lights found me
Chasing bigger dreams than my eyes could see
I've been learning to swim while I'm lost at sea
But I'll rise

I left home behind when I was just eighteen
Poured my soul into the stage, thinking who I'll be
And I've stumbled and fell, but I still believe
I'll survive
I'll survive

Baby I'll be okay
Living in this violet haze
One day I'll understand
That I'm good as I am
I'm finding my way
Dealing with these growing pains

I'll be okay
'Cause I know that in time I'll change
All the strength I've found
I'm still standing now
I'm finding my way
Dealing with these growing pains

I've been crawling through fire just to find my feet
And I know everyone at home is still so proud of me
All the miles that I've run chasing destiny
I'll be fine
I'll be fine

'Cause I've stumbled through dreams and all of these hotels
Trying to find a different person but I'm someone else
Now the chains of my past baby can't you tell
They ain't holding me, oh

Baby I'll be okay
Living in this violet haze
One day I'll understand
That I'm good as I am
I'm finding my way
Dealing with these growing pains

I'll be okay
'Cause I know that in time I'll change
All the strength I've found
I'm still standing now
I'm finding my way
Dealing with these growing pains
Dealing with these growing pains
