

Slaves to the Evermore

Monstrosity

Come into my mourning light
And let me tell you news
The harsh reality has come to life
And now you'll choose
Warnings from the past
Never plain and clear
No way to escape
The path you're held to find

The price
Is more than you can pay
Now you must decide
If trading blood for blood
Is worth the toll of life
Knowing those you seek
Would send you to your fate
Longing for your life
You had yesterday

Slaves to the Evermore

The arrogance of your treasured world
A chaotic atmosphere
The lost have warned you before of choices
And despair
Ignoring the pain you miscalculate
The suffering
Pay for the mistakes you deny
...for life

Slaves to the Evermore
Slaves to the Future

You are the monster
Lost for the rest of days
Controlling nothing
Worthless yet still you pay

The price
Is more than you can pay
Now you must decide
If trading blood for blood
Is worth the toll of life
Knowing those you seek
Would send you to your fate
Longing for your life
You had yesterday

Years lost in torment
Days grind by like centuries
Forgotten, a failure for life

The shell of a shattered human being
