I know you gotta go
Could you take your time
As you walk right through the door?
Rest in moments of my life

Now you leave me all alone
How am I supposed to find
Your heart is not my home

Baby, my mental love isn't wimpy
Baby, my mental love isn't wimpy, wimpy

But when you leave this time
And I'm here [?]
I was waiting for you out there
You should know just how much I care
How am I to find, a love like yours?
Or should I even search for
Trying to find my way to your heart

Backsliding, you went and got him
And I'm going now, "God, God"
And I'm going, "I don't care about you no more"
Backsliding, stupid guy, off the road, and now you wilin'
Lose control and now you flaunt it

I don't know, where'd you go
Where'd you go, where'd you go
Take deep breaths
Where'd you go, where'd you go, where'd you go

I'm not having it
It no more, it no more, it no more
God is in, is in control, in control
In control, in control now
