

The Big Revival

Montgomery Gentry

Get ready for the big revival
C'mon everybody get in the van
There's a little church on Eagle Mountain
It's called the Blood of the Blessed Lamb

If your faith ain't strong enough child you might wind up dead
Praise the Lord and pass me a copperhead

Reverend Jones, he struts and dances
While the guitar's playin' Amazing Grace
He testifies in tongues of fire
With tears of joy runnin' down his face

He ain't sure and we ain't sure exactly what he said
But praise the Lord and pass me a copperhead

You won't find many hypocrites
That'll take a chance on gettin' bit
But a true believer can survive
Rattlesnakes and cyanide, look out!

When you hold that deadly viper
Keep the Holy Spirit in your mind
Do not lose your concentration
Or that serpent's surely bound to strike

Either way you won't forget the first time that you said
Praise the Lord and pass me a copperhead, ooh, that's right
Praise the Lord and pass me a copperhead! That's right
I'll take that one right there
