97% Static

Monuments

Don't fall behind, I don't wanna lose you
We can repair our eyes in heaven
It's a white night and without sight
I force my way through the crowds of sacrifice
And I started feeling at peace with you
All this destruction and decay makes me feel sick
Face the facts we can't wake up. We indulge ourselves like pigs
So I'll eat away the state and force every man to break
And take a good look at itself and everything
In the name of humanity, in the name of liberty, in the name of no god

The pressure is mountain high
Excuses are always the same
We're living beyond our time
Still it won't make us change

I wanna drown myself in drink so I'm senselessly drunk
Pollution crowds around me and I wanna get fucked up
But before they spend another billion on making it all worse
I'm gonna set sail on a mission that we can save ourselves
Can we save ourselves?
Can we save ourselves?
I'll trigger a reaction
In Flames
It's beautifully insane

The pressure is Mountain high
Excuses are always the same
We're living beyond our time
Still it won't make us change

Everything's breaking down
Excuses are always the same
We're living beyond our time
Still it won't make us change
We've broken everything