Monuments

Set me ablaze

Another day your vain injustice reigns
You've held us down so long, entrapped us in your siren song
I've found a way to face this corrupt place
Not holding back this time, nefarious regimes must die

Set me ablaze, but don't think I'll just walk away
Just walk away
Cause I'm changing my fate
I swore that I would make you pay, you won't escape

Now it's too late to save your legacy
Rain fire from above, I'm not afraid to call your bluff
You'll rue the day you made us enemies
One by one, we'll rise up, it's safe to say we've had enough

All your power and riches are no match for us
Horrors you have wrought, surviving the onslaught
Ivory towers will crumble down and turn to dust
Is that all you've got? Now it's your turn to rot

Set me ablaze, but don't think I'll just walk away
Just walk away
Cause I'm changing my fate
I swore that I would make you pay, you won't escape

Say your goodbyes
Shrouded in lies, you'll face this damnation
Fall from the sky
Drenched in your vile intentions, know my vengeance
You'll know my vengeance

Wash away those lines in the sand
Count your days, this is who I am
(Count your days, this is who I am)

Set me ablaze, but don't think I'll just walk away
Just walk away
Cause I'm changing my fate
I swore that I would make you pay, you won't escape
