Monuments

We all live in a world
Where thoughts are overtaken by chaos
Realize I can't live with this
I'm living life in the sick
Designed benign, how could you ever know
There is a better way?
There is a better way!
No more (no more)
Being run around (become the light)
If I (if I)
The world bends around me, become the tide
Through standing this harm, become the tide

The world surrounds me
I'm alone, but I make the most of borrowed time
Forever eternal, the terms of old
Whispering in secret, they're questioning it

Who am I?
To fight his lighting line of creation?
Who will fight?
Foretold ages sent of mystic voices?

Think with your memory
Think for your family
Everything's written for one
Redefine
We'll change everything, I know that we can do this

Hold on a love line
As all burns
The world bends around me become the tide

The devil's deep inside
I see it as undone
Do what it ever takes
(Taking over)
Let it all go
(Taking over)
Let it all go
You wanna make it, it's already gone awry

It's a ring of fire
Through standing this harm, it's already...gone
They'll step on your will
They'll stand on your faith
They'll wither you down to nothing and then some

It's better to hold deep and stand alone
Having spent this quest without questioning it

Who am I?
To fight his lighting line of creation?
Who will fight?
Foretold ages sent of mystic voices?

Think with your memory

Think for your family
Everything's written for one
Redefine
We'll change everything and all that we survive
