

Molten

Morcheeba

I see the path to where this is going
My eyes are sharp, they cut straight through
With laser tears and my soul searching
I learned I cried enough for you
To last a lifetime

I feel freer now
I'm a little bit golden
I'm a little bit molten
Can't be beaten down
Was a little bit broken

I think that there's a big change a'coming
Therefore you'll need to be prepared
I know my heart ain't big enough for the two of us
I had some tears, they've been repaired
To last a lifetime

I feel freer now
I'm a little bit golden
I'm a little bit molten
Can't be beaten down
Was a little bit broken

Stands to reason that
I be feeling that golden
Breathing that molten
I don't need you now
You're a little bit broken

Free
I give myself permission to leave
I always held the key
But it took me while to see
That I'm no longer affected by thee
I am clear of
Without fog, I can see clearly now
I am well endowed
With these fine lips to kiss you goodbye
With my gloss
'Cause I'm the boss

Free means to be unencumbered by Exempt from rid of and immure to
Happy to resume as I blossom walking
Into a room with a view that I can enjoy
Devoid of you, not liable to Safe from, relieved of Impervious to
Fee minus you
Equals me finally

I feel freer now

Stands to reason that
I don't need your love, I exceed your love
I don't need your love, I exceed your love

I feel freer now
Not a little bit broken
