

Strike

Morgan Page

If you strike me down
I'll hold my ground
If you strike me down

White walls that never talk
I break down, they can only watch
Hide out like I'm safe and sound

Saw the fire in the dry wind, did you see it coming 'round?
Felt the danger in my eyes when rain started falling down

Who will I be tomorrow?
Who will I be if I let myself fall in love
Let this love strike me down, strike me down

High hopes, I'm holding up
If I fall, I can save myself
Let go, I've had enough
Better to have loved and lost

Saw the fire in the dry wind, did you see it coming 'round?
Felt the danger in my eyes when rain started pouring down

Who will I be tomorrow?
Who will I be if I let myself fall in love
Let this love strike me down
And I will hold my ground
Strike me down, strike me down

Fire and ice breaking the sky
Wondering why I ever said goodbye
Fear to the side, heart to the sky
Ready for lightning to strike me twice

Who will I be tomorrow?
Who will I be if I let myself fall in love
Let this love strike me down

Strike me down
I'll hold my ground
If you strike me down
I'll hold my ground
If you strike me down
I'll hold my ground
If you strike me down