Before Us

Morgan Wade

```
You said I'm a psychopath
Sitting at the bar, drinking my coffee black
You look at me and you start to laugh
You said I'm a psychopath

You were born a wild child
Riding down the road, messing with my radio dial
You give me a sinister smile
You were born a wild child

I love you just because
Saying "I love you" don't feel like enough
One day I'll return to dust
Was there life before there was us?
Was there life before there was us?

Can I steal you away from here
Drive somewhere where the view is clear
All of your dreams are your parents' fears
Can I steal you away from here?

I love you just because
Saying "I love you" don't feel like enough
One day I'll return to dust
Was there life before there was us?
Was there life before there was us?

You might be the death of me
Just throw my ashes out in the sea
You're drunk and give your eulogy
'Cause you might be the death of me

I love you just because
Saying "I love you" don't feel like enough
One day I'll return to dust
Was there life before there was us?
Was there life before there was us?
Was there life before there was us?

You said I'm a psychopath
Sitting at the bar, drink my coffee black
