

Winter

Morissette

All these voices in my head
They whisper then scream
And leave me short on breath
This tightness in my chest
Is slowly turning this smile
Into something else
Will we pass this test
Been holding on for so long
I would hate myself
If I lose you to someone else
My mind would start playing games
My heart would be a mess

So hold me when winter comes
Keep me safe in your arms
Our love will keep us warm
As we wait for spring
Summer will feel like home
As we witness the melting snow
I want to fall for you
Like an autumn leaf
Then hold me when winter comes

We both knew this time would come
From a distance, we witnessed the brewing storm
Sink an anchor for our souls
So when the waves hit hard
We won't go overboard
As time makes us fade and look old
I hope that our love will always be bold
Then we'll be the stories told
Of unlikely heroes that took on the world

So hold me when winter comes
Keep me safe in your arms
Our love will keep us warm
As we wait for spring
Summer will feel like home
As we witness the melting snow
I want to fall for you
Like an autumn leaf
Then hold me when winter

Please don't ever leave me alone
Cause I need your body to keep me warm
My heart for you increasingly grows
We'll weather these storms till we reach the shore

So hold me when winter comes
Keep me safe in your arms
Our love will keep us warm
As we wait for spring
I want to fall for you
Like an autumn leaf
