The Colours of the Cosmos

Mors Principium Est

If I could travel between the stars
And create another force
The speed will tear my soul apart
The journey takes me far away
Beyond the edge of time and space
Will I ever reach the end

The colours of cosmos
Are draped around me
It's time to wake uo
My destiny has found me
I see a billion stars
Their light will guide me
But have I gone too far?
It's all behind me

Oh mighty father
Release my flesh
And let me see
What lies behind those dreams
I am your son
All alone and weak
I will make you proud
You will see me bleed

I'd rather die tonight with pride
Than live another shameless day
I'd sacrifice it all for this
The journey takes me to my end
But in the darkness I ascend
And here I'll find my father's pride
Your words will break me
Forgot the past
Break down the unknown
Find out the mystery
Forget the reasons
The shadows haunt me
I'm slowly gliding
To dark horizon

The colours of cosmos
Are draped around me
It's time to wake up
My destiny has found me
I see a billion stars
Their light will guide me
But have I gone too far?
It's all behind me

Oh mighty father
Release my flesh
And let me see
I am your son
All alone and weak
I will make you proud
You will see me bleed
