Mortal

you say you'll lift me up you say you'll cover me you say you'll fill my cup before it empties you say you're never far you say not far from me you say that where you are i'll always be
and i believe you
you say that when you love you love with all your might you say you trust by faith and not by sight
i believe you, i believed you you said you'd lift me up you said you'd cover me you said you'd nurse my cuts you stare and watch me bleed your eyes have seen The Glory but your body's on hold your lips have kissed The Story
but your story's leaving me cold sometimes our lives depend on that which we place faith in and sometimes faith relies in Whom we are depending sometimes our broken hearts are healed the moment we Believe Again
