

The Endless Shore

Mortemia

A dream about the end of time
Eternally it haunts my mind
I saw you at the gates of time
All veiled in night
Like shadows from a distant past
Caught up with your mind at last
Like centuries passed with time through our decline

I stare into your vacant eyes
All that I can see is endless night
Long forgotten light (Buried deep inside)
I stare into your hollow soul
There's nothing left
There's nothing left at all
But an endless black hole (Sick at heart and soul)
Sick at heart and soul

I saw you at the endless shore
It must have been a thousand years ago
The reflections within your eyes was of the night
Like secrets of the seven seas
Lies buried deep, eternally
The compasses of all our hearts lost in the dark

I stare into your vacant eyes
All that I can see is endless night
Long forgotten light (Buried deep inside)
I stare into your hollow soul
There's nothing left at all
But an endless black hole (Sick at heart and soul)
Sick at heart and soul

I stare into your vacant eyes
All that I can see is endless night
Long forgotten light (Buried deep inside)
I stare into your hollow soul
There's nothing left at all
But an endless black hole (Sick at heart and soul)
Sick at heart and soul
