

Weep

Mother Mother

There is a place that hurts the most, but will I go there?
I cannot climb it's far below, I have to fall there
And weep the wind, weep the soil
Weep the ocean, and weep the way back to my birth

Weep weep weep weep weep

And weep the wind, weep the soil
Weep the ocean, and weep the way back to my birth

There is a story in my bones as old as water
It can't be heard I have no words, I must go under
And weep my mother, weep my father, and weep the children
And weep the way back to my birth

Weep weep weep weep weep

And weep the wind, weep the soil
Weep the ocean, and weep the way back to my birth

Weep my mother, weep my father, weep the children
And weep the way back to my birth

Weep weep weep weep weep
And weep the way back to my birth

Weep weep weep weep weep
