

THE RECKONING

MOTHICA

There once was a girl who trusted everyone she met
'Til she passed out and woke up in the lion's den
Now she always looks over her shoulder
Won't let anybody get closer
A stranger's a villain you haven't run away from yet

But when she falls asleep
She controls everything
An emerald hurricane
Rose from the chaos
So don't get in the way
'Cause she's a tidal wave
Here comes the reckoning

You made your bed, now lie in it
Wash the blood, Lady Macbeth
Used to be an optimist
Now she's a loaded gun, what'cha runnin' from?
Pop a melatonin, sweet dreams in three, two, one

'Cause when she falls asleep
She controls everything
An emerald hurricane
Rose from the chaos
So don't get in the way
'Cause she's a tidal wave
Here comes the reckoning

What'cha runnin' from?
