

Greedy Bastards

Motörhead

Don't ask me how I feel today
I only want to get away
I don't understand the words
You want to hear me say

I don't believe there's anyone
On earth to stop us going wrong
Don't ask why I like silence
I'll shake you to the bone
Shake you to the bone

The way we treat the world we have is criminal and cruel
They steal the air we breathe and that ain't cool
You really want to see our kids choking in the air
Greedy bastards you don't even care

You better look around you
Something's in the wind
It's not quite Armageddon
But it's the next best thing

Do you think it's paranoia?
Maybe you should call your lawyer
Don't think you're gonna be safe here
When the world breaks in
When the world breaks in

Same people every time around will send you to your death
They only want to keep you in their debt
Do you want your children wearing gas masks in their schools?
Greedy bastards make 'em break the rules
Break the rules

In the seats of power the old men sit and talk
Vote against them then you get to walk
The secrets within secrets are being hid away
Greedy bastards like to make them pay

Bastards!