

Deadly Mark

Motorband

The world is once again eternal fear sleep reading Why is it I can't tell I wish I were just dreaming

Why could be then again you only use it as suspect Those who hides agenda job and draw the deadly mark

Oh god, I wish that someone could command save our souls
And angels sent from hell
please hear our desperete call Oh god, I wish that somewhere
there was something of hope
There must be still some time left before the day we finally fall

The ocean turn all black and can get hell-like power This crying bound to dawn this is the final hour

We know now hate deprived the bills are overdue Can we still stare in you or I will be through

Oh god, I wish that someone
could command save our souls
And angels sent from hell
please hear our desperete call
Oh god, I wish that somewhere
there was something of hope
There must be still some time left

could command save our souls
And angels sent from hell
Oh god, I wish that somewhere
there was some hint of hope
There must be still some time left
before the day we finally fall
