

Coeur D'Alene

Movements

I remember cold December
Cautious on the highway, rainy drive
Lost my fault lines in your bright eyes
You're my shelter, story teller
Am I oversharing? Are you sure?
So defenseless, I've been swept in

Ever-raging flood
Sinking in your love

And it was barely January
Art museums, phone calls, Coeur d'Alene
Made my head spin, unexpected

Just happens when it does
And I'm sinking in your love

Stormlike you're testing me, don't leave me dry
I'll stand in your corner, your fight is my fight
Bring out the best in me, straighten my spine
Your love moves me forward, your life is my life
Your life is my life

And when the world stopped, it was just us
And neither Atlas nor his shoulders
Could hold the weight of the kingdom come
We left the city, headed up
Over state lines and into late nights
And most days, I wish we never left
I wanna dream that life we dreamt

So please, don't wake me up
And I'm sinking in your love

Storm like you're testing me, don't leave me dry
I'll stand in your corner, your fight is my fight
Bring out the best in me, straighten my spine
Your love moves me forward, your life is my life
Your life is my life, your life is my life
Your life is my life

Sunk my soul undertow
You're my home, lovely low
Sunk my soul undertow
You're my home, lovely low
