

Submerge

Movements

Kicking my sheets off myself in my sleep
Wrestling my guilt while submerged in a dream
I can't help but feel helpless
We could sing harmony, and my soul felt in tact
Keeping in sync with the world at our backs

So I guess I must have fallen flat
Maybe I'm wasting my time, but that's fine
'Cause I can't be held to the light
Where have I been?
I'll sink in my skin
Maybe I'm cursed
Caught in a spin
Sorrow sets in Falling head first
Submerge
Submerge

If I took it back to try again, would these things repeat in my head?
Settle for a failure in the end
But these words still feel like drowning to me
An elegy is all I'll ever be

Maybe I wasted your time, but that's fine
I let it drift too far to find
Where have I been?
I'll sink in my skin
Maybe I'm cursed
Caught in a spin
Sorrow sets in
Falling head first
Submerge
Submerge

Drowning in the dark
Drowning in the dark
Drowning in the dark
