Another You

Mozella

When I woke up I took a good look at my face,
In the mirror my eyes are drifting me to gaze,
‘cause I know now someone like you can be replaced
And it hurts me to know you just went on your way.

Baby, I should just forget,
Turn my tears and seem like a rise.
I can’t live it in regret, baby let me give you one more try.

There will never be, there will never be another you
There will never be, there will never be another you.
No, it’s nothing I can do.

When I see you my mind is dancing in the past,
I was under the impression that if I love you it will last.
Maybe I should walk away, close the door and leave you behind.

But I keep thinking about the past, maybe I can have you change your mind.

There will never be, there will never be another you
There will never be, there will never be another you.

Nothing compares to your sweet loving
No, no, no, so tell me what I’m supposed to do.

There will never be, there will never be another you
There will never be, there will never be another you.

And I can’t live without you, can’t live without you,
Baby tell me what am I supposed to do.
‘cause there will never be, there will never be,
There will never be another you…
