

Once Upon a Time

Mr. Big

Once upon a time, the chemistry was cool
I had a little place, just a space standin' next to you
When you lost your mind, did you realize or wonder why
When you go insane, your to blame now I gotta fly

Underhanded, how you planned it was the perfect crime
That was once upon a time, Once upon a time
That was once upon a time, Once upon a time

You never told me that you had a little dark spot on your heart
You threw me a bone, left me alone and then you ripped me apart
Now you're the one, come undone, the tables turned around
Where do you go, so low, I think your going under ground

Underhanded, how you planned it was the perfect crime
That was once upon a time, Once upon a time
That was once upon a time, Once upon a time

Now it's time to take a stand, Take it back in my hands
I'm only doing what I can, Why should give a damn

Now it's going down, I dropped the other shoe
You know it's been said, your thick head, it all comes back to you
It seems you're the one come undone, the world has turned around
Original sin is doing you in and now I

Understand it, how you planned it was the perfect crime
That was once upon a time, Once upon a time
That was once upon a time, Once upon a time
Once upon a time
