

Dream Diver

Mr.Kitty

Through my mirror of the past
In my dreams it takes me back
To times of ease, these memories
I used to live so carelessly

I'm always falling apart, always losing my mind
Losing everything when I think of you
Tell me the reason why, tell me that I should trust you
I'm always running away, always leaving behind
All the memories I held in my heart
I gave you everything, now I can never trust you

Linger in the dark of night
Passing glances through the light
Here's my veil of secrecy
To nowhere I am whispering

I'm always falling apart, always losing my mind
Losing everything when I think of you
Tell me the reason why, tell me that I should trust you
I'm always running away, always leaving behind
All the memories I held in my heart
I gave you everything, now I can never trust you
I'm always falling apart, always losing my mind
Losing everything when I think of you
Tell me the reason why, tell me that I should trust you
I'm always running away, always leaving behind
All the memories I held in my heart
I gave you everything, now I can never trust you
