

Leave Everything

Mr.Kitty

To be naive and a disappointment
You lied to me about everything
Back to a time when it wasn't pointless
You blinded me, I couldn't see

Your suicidal, nihilistic thoughts
There's never any action or boundaries you can cross
It's time, I set the lines between you and me

When I am gone, what is left of myself?
Inside of the room I spent all my hours
And my days finding out who I am, why I'm here
With the sounds and the words to make everything clear
For all the people I've known, the ones that I love
I know this is hard letting go, don't give up
I'm no longer here, but I know I can trust
You'll leave everything as it was

You got the nerve to be sick and twisted
It's all a joke, you laughed at me
When I was weak and I needed something
Belittling, now can you see?

The moment when I'm here and then I'm not
I want every bullet, I wanted every rope
But now I'm glad you finally set me free

When I am gone, what is left of myself?
Inside of the room I spent all my hours
And my days finding out who I am, why I'm here
With the sounds and the words to make everything clear
For all the people I've known, the ones that I love
I know this is hard letting go, don't give up
I'm no longer here, but I know I can trust
You'll leave everything as it was
