

Modern Romance

Mr.Kitty

I'm waking up
My body aches
The pain is back
My mind's awake

What happened here
Can't recollect
Who left sincere
Marks on my neck

A night so young
I couldn't see
That you were here
In front of me

I do not care
You don't exist
I'm leaving now
You won't be missed

Think to yourself what have I done
I'll live to see what you'll become
A heart that's blacker than your lungs
You can't undo what has been done

I cannot sleep
A restless night
I'm worried now
Are you alright

What's going on
I do not know
Your other form
Will truly show

And so it seems
You only care
For alcohol
And poisoned air

I cared too much
My heart is real
You're leaving now
I'll slowly heal

Think to yourself what have I done
I'll live to see what you'll become
A heart that's blacker than your lungs
You can't undo what has been done
