

Neverending Nights

Mr.Kitty

From my sun drenched window
I look down at this frozen city
I've given everything that I can give
From my sun drenched window
I look down at this frozen city
There is nothing left for me here

These bad days will end
These bad days will stop
These bad days will end
These bad days will stop

City lights
Cigarette smoke fills my empty lungs
Lonely nights
As I wait for you to come back home
City lights
Harmful ashes to to tender dust
Endless fights
Just remember you are not alone

From my sun drenched window
I look down at this frozen city
Everything just seems so vague
From my sun drenched window
I look down at this frozen city
I don't remember anything anymore

These bad days will end
These bad days will stop
These bad days will end
These bad days will stop

City lights
Cigarette smoke fills my empty lungs
Lonely nights
As I wait for you to come back home
City lights
Harmful ashes to to tender dust
Endless fights
Just remember you are not alone

Just remember you are not alone
Just remember you are not alone
Just remember you are not alone
Just remember you are not alone
