

Scars

Mr.Kitty

I don't know much about you
Can you tell me your name
If you tell me yours
You'll get mine in exchange
Now, we can
Talk about anything
We don't remember the past
Like we used to
The things that we had
And the things that we used to do
It didn't seem to matter

We can jump over fences
And cut up our knees
Run through the forest
And get beat by the trees
Break all our bones in colliding cars
But the memories will last
With our healing scars

You only talked of your
Everyday problems
You never took action
Or tried to solve them
I guess it's all a game
My thoughts are drifting
I'm beginning to fade
I wonder what would happen
If I thought the same
Would I become a part of your game

We can jump over fences
And cut up our knees
Run through the forest
And get beat by the trees
Break all our bones in colliding cars
But the memories will last
With our healing scars

You can't help the ones you hurt
I can't save you from yourself
You can't help the ones you hurt
I can't save you from yourself

We can jump over fences
And cut up our knees
Run through the forest
And get beat by the trees
Break all our bones in colliding cars
But the memories will last
With our healing scars
But the memories will last

With our healing scars

You can't help the ones you hurt
