

To be honest I don't really know
Why is it so hard to let you go?
After all the heartbreaks and the oaths
I swear to God that I loved you the most

If I forget you, tell me would it help
Or would it make me more than just a wreck?
If "I still love you" was the biggest lie
Then baby I'm a liar
(Cause I still do)

I can't seem to get you out my head
I wish you ended up with me instead
I can't seem to get you out my head
I can't just stay silent and pretend
That I'm over you
(Over you)

I forget a lot of things
But I never forget how wonderful you are
We were the greatest thing to just exist
No chance to ever fall apart

But take a look on where we are right now
Just two strangers in the same old town
Does that even make you sleep at night?
Since you left
(Oh I've been sleep deprived)

I can't seem to get you out my head
I wish you ended up with me instead
I can't seem to get you out my head
I can't just stay silent and pretend
That I'm over you
(Over you)

I really don't know what to do
I can't see myself without you
I really don't know what to do
I can't see myself without you

I really don't know what to do
I can't see myself without you
I really don't know what to do
I can't see myself without you

I can't seem to get you out my head
I can't seem to get you out my head
I wish you ended up with me instead
I wish you ended up with me instead
I can't seem to get you out my head
I can't seem to get you out my head
I can't just stay silent and pretend
That I'm over you
Over you, baby
