

The Girl With The Stars In Her Eyes

MSG (Michael Schenker Group)

When the rain stops, I hear laughter
Came in starlight she came here to love
Eyes are dancing on a cold wind
Gently teasing she burns like the sun

No more tears to cry
No one sings a lullaby

She's dancing in the fires of midnight
Maybe someday she'll return
She's dancing in the fires of midnight
The girl with the stars in her eyes

When the rain stops, she'll be waiting
My enchantress to carry the pain
Then she dances through a hurricane
I don't know her name, her eyes they light up tomorrow

No more tears to cry
No one sings a lullaby

She's dancing in the fires of midnight
Maybe someday she'll return
She's dancing in the fires of midnight
The girl with the stars in her eyes
She's dancing in the fires of midnight
Maybe someday she'll return
She's dancing in the fires of midnight
The girl with the stars in her eyes

When the rain stops in the morning
I'll be waiting to carry you home
No more wandering, no more loneliness
Just give me one more kiss before you move on

She's dancing in the fires of midnight
Maybe someday she'll return
She's dancing in the fires of midnight
The girl with the stars in her eyes
She's dancing in the fires of midnight
Maybe someday she'll return
She's dancing in the fires of midnight
The girl with the stars in her eyes