

Bridal Gown

Mt. Desolation

Girl your voice has been the music of my life since we were kids without a fear or dream.

Playing up for cine films On our new bikes we spun our wheels down the alleys, through the fields, and as for love

nothing was further from our minds, time was endless and it was the best of times.

And as the years went speeding by you were not always at my side but you were ever in my mind.

It seemed our stars were tightly bound from time to time we fooled around I picked you up, I put you down till the moment

I saw you in your bridal gown I just assumed that you would always be around.

And the ground beneath my feet became an endless empty street cause I've been thinking that you would always be around.

Our features have changed, no longer smooth gone is the leanness of our youth but when you swept into that room you were glowing barely recognizable Of course I loved you but I had no idea at all and the ground beneath my feet

became an endless empty street
'cause I assumed that you would always be around.

Spoilt? child I could not see what was standing in front of me. now it's too late,
you're standing in your bridal gown.

Till the moment I saw you in your bridal gown I just assumed that
you would always be around
you would always be around.
