Mt. Joy

Your strange isn't awake yet, I hope it is just sleeping in I was over the moon when you said all was possible
And I'm all signed up for the circus life in the flickering light Of a backstage birthday we're singing in the hallway and we're drinking like we're scared

Ohh no touch
Ohh touch

Your strange is not awake yet, I hope it's just sleeping in I need someone to celebrate the wins I need someone to share this with Don't spend your whole life wondering why this ain't no normal life

Said you want to have a daughter, said you want to be a part of this big world
