

She Wants To Go Dancing

Mt. Joy

She says she wants to take it slowly
No surprises
Something in the night's on fire
I see in the light

My life's a crooked mess
Of the things I've broken with my head, so nervous
But maybe you're worth it

She wants to go dancing
And everything starts to change
And it's like a movie
And she starts to hold my hand

She says she wants to take it slowly
No surprises
She whispers, "This is only dancing
There's no romance"

And she smiles wide
And she screams alive
And she holds my hands
Says, "Read between the lines"

And then we start dancing
And everything starts to change
It's just like a movie
And she always looks my way

And we dance all night, no gasoline
Nobody knows this groove, I'm grievous
We dance all night, no gasoline
If this ain't love, was it ever mean to me?
To me?

Won't stop a thing to me
To me
