

Someday Not Soon

Much The Same

What happens when it all comes to an end
Gone from the one
your closest friend
There is no doubt your love is something real
Goodbyes are hard, the pain will heal
I wish I had some scholarly advice
Something that could make it all go away
But I will always be there when you call
And offer a shoulder when you need to cry
'Cause I'm always here, I'll always care
I'm praying for you I want you to be aware Someday not soon the memories of pain will fade away
But a contented love will always remain
I've been through this myself a couple times before
I wish I could say it wouldn't be so bad
Second song to you is not more cheery than the last
I wish it didn't have to be so sad