Dyna-Mite

Nobody knew her name, she turned up just the same There was a knock on the door, a bump on the floor And the party turned insane As she called out her name

Then she walked in looking like dynamite She said: now come along boogaloo through the night And by the way she's moving well dynamite Light you up with all she's got She's got the whole town lighting up dynamite Nobody quite knows what to do wrong or right But they all know Dyna is dynamite and they're right

She hadn't been there long When she told us where she came from There was a flash in the sky, a light in her eye And the dynamite light burned on

As the music went on and on

Then she walked in looking like dynamite She said: now come along boogaloo through the night And by the way she's moving well dynamite Light you up with all she's got She's got the whole town lighting up dynamite Nobody quite knows what to do wrong or right But they all know Dyna is dynamite and they're right

Then she walked in looking like dynamite....
