

Maybe Tomorrow

Mud

If you don't love me now there's nothing left for me.
I'll sit and dream about the days that used to be.

It's you and only you
What aches I'm going through
Cause if you care at all
Just write it on the wall.
Baby all I want is you
Another love won't do.

Maybe tomorrow, there'll be a change of heart
Maybe tomorrow, we'll make a brand new start
You may get tired of your running around
You'll miss the love that you once found
Maybe tomorrow, you'll be returning,
You'll be returning to me.

If we should meet someday
Don't look the other way
Just smile and say hello
I'll know if I should go
Try not to think about it
Baby now I'll live without it (live with out it)

Maybe tomorrow, there'll be a change of heart
Maybe tomorrow, we'll make a brand new start
You may get tired of your running around
You'll miss the love that you once found
Maybe tomorrow, you'll be returning,
You'll be returning to me.
