

Navy Blue

MUNA

Drove to mountains in the morning
On the way back down, I thought my brakes were broken
And the road would end but I would just keep going
Through the air and into the Pacific Ocean

I'm just trying to keep my head above
Water
Get enough sleep and drink enough
Water

I'm so navy blue
I'm so navy blue
I'm so navy blue over you

Took a train to a friend's house feeling shaken
Seems like you somehow turn up when I'm at my weakest
Don't know what to say so leave it blank like silence
Go back home and wait for some new change that's coming

I'm just trying to keep my head above
Water
Get enough sleep and drink enough
Water

I'm so navy blue
I'm so navy blue
I'm so navy blue over you
I'm so navy blue
I'm so navy blue
I'm so navy blue over you

Do you know that I've been holding my breath all of this time?
Weren't you gonna call me when you got back?
Was it all lies?
Do you know that I've been holding my breath all of this time?
Weren't you gonna love me if I just did everything right?
Do you know that I've been holding my breath all of this time?
Weren't you gonna call me when you got back?
Was it all lies?
Do you know that I've been holding my breath all of this time?
Weren't you gonna love me if I just did everything right?

I'm so blue
I'm so