

Butterfly Effect

Muni Long

You never broke my heart, and I've never cried in the dark
We never gazed up at the stars, and we never will lose our spark
And we've never once disagreed, 'cause there never was you and me
As so wherever you are, we're so far apart

'Cause I never turned down your street, and we never actually meet
Right before I saw your face, God ran out of ink
We never do fall in love, two never do become one
And our love never ends, 'cause our story never begins

I pray, I don't miss the love of my life today
I pray, I don't miss the love of my life today

We never walked down the aisle, there's no exchanging of vows
No picket fence and no house, I'll never carry your child
Maybe it all would have happened, if I didn't get stuck in traffic
If I hadn't drove past my exit, then I would be making you breakfast

But I never turned down your street, and we never actually meet
Right before I saw your face, God ran out of ink
We never do fall in love, two never do become one
And our love never ends, 'cause our story never begins

I pray I don't miss the love of my life today
I pray I don't miss the love of my life today
I pray I don't miss the love of my life today
I pray I don't miss the love of my life today
