

Plot Twist

Muni Long

(Yeah yeah)
I can't believe you think you got away
With all the stupid games you like to play
'Cause I went through your phone the other day
The things I saw I won't even say
I went and got my pistol out the safe
Can't even lie, you made me contemplate
'Cause I really wanna tell you what I know
Just to see the look that's on your face

You got a whole 'nother life, two kids and a wife
Even a different last name
Too good for you, yo mama know it too
Your family put me up on game
Said you had a whole 'nother life
I've fallen for your lies
But last night everything changed
Another plot twist
They're not even your kids
They look just like your brother by the way
Plot twist

Ooh
Another plot twist

Tried to be gangsta, try to keep it together but I'm falling apart
Don't know what happened, I guess I really love you
Guess I gave you my heart
Even though I know you're wrong
And I knew it all along
That don't mean it doesn't hurt baby
Waking up to see you gone
Talk to your wife on the phone, she don't even sound surprised
Said it ain't the first time you ain't come home at night
She gave me a piece of advice
Told me girl dry your eyes
Get your get back on these niggas don't you ever let them see you cry

Got a whole 'nother life, two kids and a wife
Even a different last name
Yeah yeah
Too good for you, your mama know it too
(She do)
Your family put me up on game
Said you had a whole 'nother life
I've fallen for your lies
Last night everything changed
Another plot twist
They're not even your kids
They look just like your brother by the way
