

So Long

Murder by Death

Heart heavy as a kettlebell
Bleedin' starlight, I know I look like I have been through hell
I don't want you to hurt me anymore, but you will
Will you just go?

I don't really know what you are
A shadow moving in the back seat of the car
I cannot fake it anymore
Shooting from the hip
Think I'll skip the denouement

So long, farewell
No longer under your spell
So long, goodbye
Why is it so hard this time?
So long
So long

In this place, there is a vacuum
Sucking all the air right out of the room
There is no final battle, never was a war
And there's nothing to show for

I don't really know what you are
Meeting in the space beneath the overpass in my car
Don't wanna fake it anymore
Shooting from the hip
Think I'll skip the denouement

So long, farewell
No longer under your spell
So long, goodbye
Why is it so hard this time?
So long, farewell
No longer under your spell
So long, goodbye
