

Angels

Murs

Aiight

It's like, baby, I'm gon' watch over you no matter how bad you mess up
Or no matter what you do
I'm gonna continue to love you unconditionally
And watch over you

I've over-squeezed what's tight, I made my way into the light
Tasted the bitterness of death within my first bite of life
Intake of oxygen was painful, smack on the back
Present the demon to the angel, in her wings I found comfort
In my eyes she found hope
Completely healthy baby boy despite the little dope
Forced upon her by the monster that her husband came to be Basketed Nicol, yet son was her name for me
Match made in Heaven from the start she said that she would give her all
And I would gladly take it, held me close to her heart
In time I come to break it, to this day I don't know why
I guess I bled you for the lie
That I tried to tell myself, convinced you were perfect
Supreme being-slash-machine that would never short circuit
But when I found your faults I threw a dozen to your face
How was I tellin' you where you messed up? I was way out of place
I watched you fall from grace and I acted like I gave a fuck
I should have picked you up, you see your weaknesses my strengths
Your strengths are my weaknesses, I feel remorse and shame
Even as I'm speakin' this, I'm leakin' this to tape
So the truth can escape through to large amounts of anger
When we speakin' face to face
I understand now:
All you wanted was the best and for less you wouldn't settle
I'm sorry to be the son that would come to make your petals wilt
In this skill I relish
Wonder how she divine, could produce somethin' so hellish
Tell this to my future in the hopes that they forgive you for the way I raised them
Know that best is all I ever meant to be
'Cause only time helped me appreciate the angel that was sent to me

I got angels watching over me
Send me an angel to guide where I'm supposed to be
I got angels watching over me
Send me an angel somewhere close to me
I feel angels watching over me
Send me an angel to guide where I'm supposed to be
We got angels watching over
Send me an angel, somewhere, close

I came protected by her method kept so secret from the eyes
That had grew me on this planet, that shall never grow denied
We all spited at an early age, and knew it was a gift, this
Worse was overlooking and shall never let him slip (Uh, uh)
Better get the cameras 'cause the picture's rather crystal
Clear, mistle strong, miss is pertinent amidst all
The misguiding ministers so sinister and evil
Evil ways of these demons came from hoards amongst my people
From the street, know that the halos just be watching
Hatred, it is brewing in the enemy, he's plotting

What you should be doing, never come to easy access
Sometimes you need a helper just to get you due for, fact, it's true
Relax if you can see through and it's promising
I'ma sing like birds while the herds eat their words
And they're vomiting poison, 'cause what I know annoys them
But what I hear is noise, an angelic language, voice
And I tell it like it is, come enveloped in my biz'
And when I swell up, then it is a prophecy fulfilled
Got to be the real real and not the cliché
My angels watch what he say and she say, and help me on my way

I got angels watching over me
Send me an angel to guide where I'm supposed to be
I got angels watching over me
Send me an angel somewhere close to me
I feel angels watching (Watching)
We got angels watching (Watching)

You're never alone
You know, they ain't far
You don't get away with nothin'
And you accomplish nothin' on your own
Whether it's God, Allah, whoever
Someone
It could be the force, I don't know, I ain't trippin', I'm just
It doesn't necessarily have to be heaven or hell, or Lucifer, Muhammad the Prophet, yo
It's just whatever's gon' get you through your most lonely time
You know, I was out, and then...
Watch, watch
Watch, play it again
Watchin', watchin'
It's just your angels watchin', watchin', watchin'