Almost Gone

Mushroomhead

This cant be so all over And out of my time i've wasted So much of my mind is racing To the point of no return

Drown my sorrows flood my soul
By tomorrow i'll be cold
(wash it all away, wash it all away)
Now i'm hollow and alone
Take the shadow
Almost gone
(wash it all away, wash it all away)

Life can be so much colder
I doubt i'm alive, I'm faceless
Lost inside replacements
Fill the void that
Roam the earth

Drown my sorrows flood my soul By tomorrow i'll be cold (wash it all away, so cold) Now i'm hollow and alone Take the shadow Almost gone

(raise the stakes what have we got to lose no choice in sight where's our right to choose you cant catch a break so take what you can just ignore the blame you don't understand cracked picture frames blood stains on the mattress ashes to ashes - gas cans and matches bourbon buries all the memories anything to wash it all away)

Drown my sorrows flood my soul

Now i'm hollow and alone

(both) raise your arrow way to run

(raise the stakes what have we got to lose no choice in sight where's our right to choose you cant catch a break so take what you can just ignore the blame you don't understand cracked picture frames blood stains on the mattress ashes to ashes - gas cans and matches bourbon buries all the memories anything to wash it all away)

So all over (wash it all away)
